

Log on to <http://townhall.fairelectionsnow.org> on Thursday, February 24th to participate in the town hall...

For Immediate Release: February 24, 2010

Contact: Paul Mounds 860-278-8888

Congressman Larson to Participate in a Live Interactive Online Town Hall about the Fair Elections Now Act

Washington, DC- Tomorrow at 6pm, U.S. Congressman John B. Larson (CT-01) will lead a live, interactive town hall to discuss his Fair Elections Now Act that will reduce the influence of big donors in the electoral process. Hosted by the Public Campaign Action Fund, the town hall will provide individuals an opportunity to hear first-hand from Congressman Larson about how the legislation will empower small donors and ensure that elections remain about the voters, and not special interests.

After the Supreme Court voted in favor of allowing big corporations and special interests to spend almost unlimited amounts of money in political elections, the need for reform in the electoral process has become even more important. The Fair Elections Now Act, sponsored by Congressman Larson, creates a voluntary system that allows candidates to spend their time meeting with constituents and working on the issues most important to their communities instead of dialing for big dollars.

This landmark bipartisan legislation currently has 135 co-sponsors in the House of Representatives and the support of well respected national and local organizations.

Log on to <http://townhall.fairelectionsnow.org> on Thursday, February 25th at 6 pm and you'll be able to ask questions about the legislation during the interactive event, as Congressman Larson replies over a live video stream.

Who: U.S. Congressman John B. Larson and the Public Campaign Action Fund

What: Online Town Hall-Fair Elections Now Act

When: 6:00PM, Thursday, February 25th 2010

Where: <http://townhall.fairelectionsnow.org>

###