

Rep. LARSON: Bush's hubris and arrogance stand in the way of doing the right thing

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: April 25, 2007

Rep. LARSON: Bush's hubris and arrogance stand in the way of doing the right thing

WASHINGTON- Today, Congressman John B. Larson (CT-01) released the following statement regarding House consideration of the Iraq Supplemental bill. House Democrats are expected to vote on the conference report later today:

Last November, the American public voted for a new direction in Iraq. They sent the country a strong message of change and hope. Today, in passing this Iraq supplemental bill in the House, we will act out the will of the American people and put it on the desk of the President. It is up to the President whether he will heed their will and sign it. It will only be his hubris and arrogance that stand in the way of doing the right thing for our troops, our veterans, and the American people.

Congressman John B. Larson is currently in his fourth term serving the first district of Connecticut. He is also Vice Chair of the House Democratic Caucus.

###