LARSON RECOGNIZES MARTIN LUTHER KING DAY

Washington, DC - In honor of Martin Luther King Jr. Day, Congressman John B. Larson (CT-01), Chairman of the House Democratic Caucus, said:

"Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. recognized that in striving toward equality, the work begins in our neighborhoods and streets. We pause on January 19, 2009, Martin Luther King Day, to remember Dr. King's legacy and promote his message of service. President-elect Barack Obama truly understands that message. When he calls for progress and change he asks the American people to participate in that change. He understands that change does not just come from the halls of Washington, but also from communities all across this country. Martin Luther King Day should inspire us all to participate in serving our communities to make this country a better place."
